Smith back as chamber leader

BY REVIEW STAFF

When life hands you lemons, you make lemonade.

When the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce couldn't find any nominees for their four executive positions, they felt the only logical alternative was to change the chamber's bylaws, which previously prohibited anyone from serving more than two consecutive terms in the same position on the executive.

The motion to remove that section from the bylaws was passed unanimously, paving the way for Sandy Smith to accept the nomination as president for another year, while Vicki Brooker retained the post of secretary. Former treasurer Lesia Porcina moved up to vice-president, leaving that position open for the time being. The chamber hopes to fill that spot at the next meeting.

Smith reported on a busy year, which included hiring a project planner for the proposed train station and displaying the station plans at the Elk Point Centennial. The chamber hosted the Canada Day pancake breakfast, a welcome reception for delegates attending the Northern Lights Library Conference and a forum for candidates in the town's municipal election, as well as the very successful Christmas Extravaganza and the Christmas lighting and decorating contest.

The lack of progress on the train station leaves Smith "disappointed. The wheels are turning, but they're not hitting the pavement. I'd sure like to see things go forward and for us to accomplish something."

Smith said that just prior to the annual meeting, "I took one step forward." She delivered letters to all the Elk Point restaurants advising them about the upcoming Peewee "D" hockey provincials and the May 17-18 visit by the David Thompson Brigade, both of which will bring a large number of visitors to the community. She said response from the restaurant operators was positive, and that they were glad to be notified of the upcoming events.

The chamber's meeting dates and times will remain unchanged, and the 2009 membership fees were left at this year's levels.

The chamber discussed ways to decorate the community to welcome the David Thompson Brigade. The cost of a welcome banner to be hung on the Elk Point Bridge and the cost of painting the windows of downtown businesses will be determined before decisions are made.

Allied Arts 'up and running'

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

"We're up and running," an exultant Elk Point Regional Allied Arts Society president Don Conrad said Friday, as he and society secretary Deanna Easthope unrolled an artist's concept of the Allied Arts Centre.

An elegant, copper-coloured entranceway curves out from the east wall of what originally was Pan Canadian Petroleum's oilfield shop. Plans accompanying the drawing unroll to show a spacious lobby, coat check, washrooms, meeting and storage rooms in an area once housing a truck wash bay, while the main warehouse space becomes an auditorium capable of seating 500, in front of a gigantic 36- by 48-foot stage.

Conrad says Universal Consulting Group of Lloydminster is doing the whole design, down to the tendering of bids, and will oversee the construction and inspections, and are "basically overseeing the whole project."

The electrical contract for division of the electrical services between the Allied Arts Centre and Northern Lights Library System headquarters has been awarded, with the work to proceed shortly.

Junior Crusaders sweep tournament

By AMANDA POULIN
Review Contributor

On Saturday, February 23, the 7-8 Jr. Girls basketball team hosted a four-team round robin. They went into the tournament a little nervous, due to their losses to J.R. Robson and St. Jerome's at an earlier tournament in Vermilion. Nevertheless, the girls went into their first game vs J.R. Robson with heads high. It was a close game but the girls stayed up on J.R. by 10 points throughout and finished strong with a final score of 22-12.

The Crusaders then went up against Veg. Comp. The girls showed great skills on both offence and defense. The Crusaders' quick passing was too much for Vegreville's man-to-man defense and Veg soon found themselves falling behind. Defensively, the F.G. Miller girls were strong like they have been all season. Playing a tight 2-1-2 defense, the girls were able to force many turnovers. The girls wrapped up their game against Vegreville with a score of 34-10.

The girls really showed their dedication and athleticism as they faced St. Jerome's Spartans for their final game. The Crusaders started out pressing St. Jerome's and got a quick three baskets. It was just enough for the girls to get themselves pumped up. Midway through the second period: point guard, Taylor Cochrane (Grade 7), and forward, Seanna Leaf (Grade 8), really got the Crusaders' scoring going with several fast breaks. The girls found themselves dominating the first half of the game. Into the third period, the Spartans got some good shots but didn't get enough chances to score. Very aggressive forwards, Brittany McGee (Grade 7) and Charly Frisby (Grade 7) brought down great defensive and offensive rebounds which allowed the girls to keep a substantial lead over the Spartans. The girls' rebounding was the best that it has been all year. The Crusaders finished their final game strong with a win of 35-12.

Some other players who really stepped up their game in this tournament were Kayla Gibson (Grade 8), Leigha Bishop (Grade 7), Kelsey Lindquist (Grade 8) and Janelle Letwin (Grade 7).

Gibson had some great offensive rebounds and shots. She is really starting to find her spot on the team.

Lindquist is a smart defensive player. She rebounds well and is very calm while she waits for her outlets.

Bishop has also done exceptionally well as a rookie. She is a quick defensive player and is really starting to see the floor on offence.

Letwin struggled at the start of the season but seems to have shaken it off. She really showed some solid defense at the tournament and excels with every game.

Jodi Kalynchuk (Grade 7) and Katelynn Nelson (Grade 7) also played well and have improved tremendously.

This win was huge for the team. The girls have been to fine tournaments this year and have improved at each. Finally it seems like the girls are coming together. As a coach, I am proud of all the girls. They are a very athletic young group that will have a bright future in Junior and Senior High Basketball if they stick together, working hard and get the proper coaching to send them to the next level.

"All the other tenders should be put out soon," Conrad says, "and they should be awarded during the third week of March."

Conrad says the society has the final plans and "everything is in there. It will be phased in as money allows until it's totally completed."

Easthope says the first priorities are the entrance, the washrooms and the stage. The auditorium will hold about 450 people at round tables, Easthope estimates. The kitchen, also to be located in the former wash bay, will be done later, when money permits.

So far, the project has received support from the provincial government, the County of St. Paul and the town of Elk Point, Conrad says.

"Now that it's getting underway, we're starting some massive fundraising."

Canadian Natural Resources has committed $50,000 and E-Can Oilfield Services has made a $10,000 donation this past year. In addition, Conrad says, "there have been a lot of individual sponsors."

The fundraising drive will continue, "and we've applied for casino and bingo licenses," Conrad said.

The society is incorporated both provincially and federally, and can issue receipts for tax deductions.

He acknowledges the contributions of the Northern Lights Library System, which in addition to "offering us the building for a dollar," have been very supportive of the project as a whole.

Conrad is "optimistic that we'll be functional within a year, for the community to use the building. There have already been inquiries into uses for everything from Christmas parties to the school prom. I think the community is waiting eagerly, and so are we. Before, it was always an 'if,' now it's a 'when.'

Fundraising for the facility is made easier, Conrad says, "because we have a proven track record. We can draw over 1600 people to our dinner theatre each year."

More than the arts will benefit once the facility is ready for use, Conrad says. The Ukrainian Dance Club, TaeKwon-Do and other organizations are eager to make use of the new venue, coming soon to a neighbourhood near us.

Re-Elect Progressive Conservative Candidate Ray Danyluk

I am proud to be part of Premier Stelmach's team. Our Premier understands rural Alberta. He has a plan to deal with issues that we struggle with daily. Under his strong leadership we have made the tough decisions. We are enacting the plan that will ensure a future for all Albertans. With his support my priorities are:

1. AGRICULTURE is in a crisis and we need both short and long-term solutions that work. My goal is to make agriculture sustainable again. There is much work to be done on this extremely difficult issue, but I commit to you that I will work with producers to find those solutions.
2. SAFE AND CARING COMMUNITIES - our communities are more than just where we live, they are part of who we are. Our plan is to enhance programs, increase law enforcement, and to make the justice system more responsive to what we as Albertans need to feel safe in our own communities.
3. HEALTH, WELLNESS AND LEARNING - we need to have more accessible specialized services in rural Alberta. Our work to bring more physicians to all rural communities must continue.

We are creating choice that enables seniors to remain independent. We have implemented strategies that support senior's right to choose how and where they live.

Alberta provides world-class educational opportunities for all children. We are also committed to improving access to post secondary education in rural Alberta.

Health, Wellness and Learning are vital to the excellent quality of life that Albertans enjoy.

Public speaking, demonstrations please 4-H judges with skills shown

By Vicki Brooker
Review Staff

Six public speakers and four members who gave demonstrations of their interests and skills provided a fine afternoon of entertainment and information on Sunday at Elk Point 4-H Multi Club's annual Public Speaking Competition.

Janice Tymofichuk won the Senior speaking trophy from ATB Financial with an informative speech on clinical depression and an impromptu on rainy day fun, while runner-up Robyn Ockerman spoke on the dilemma of poverty and the benefits of 4-H membership to win the Servus Credit Union plaque.

The Junior speaking competition required a second round of impromptu to break a tie Ashton Ewasiuk won the Elk Point Review's first place trophy with a speech on horse personalities and an impromptu on her most important person, her dad. Second place and the Woody's Trophy award went to Edna Kulczycki with a speech on 4-H camps and an impromptu on "my first bike ride," while plaques from Elk Point Community Lions went to third place finishers Ashley Bristow and Madison MacDonald.

Elk Point Community Lions also sponsored plaques for the presentations.

Darren Tymofichuk discussed the equipment and location needed for a successful coyote hunt to place first in the Intermediate division, while Tyler Ockerman showed how to take care of a 4-H steer for second place.

First place Junior was Nicole Tymofichuk, who demonstrated the making of "the best breakfast," while Alexis Bristow showed a power point she had prepared on her unique family's history, for second place.

Senior speeches and presentations were judged by Kim Reed, Elena Drobot and Daphne Schnurer, while Debbie Leckie, Olga Ockerman and Lorraine Danyluk judged the junior speeches.

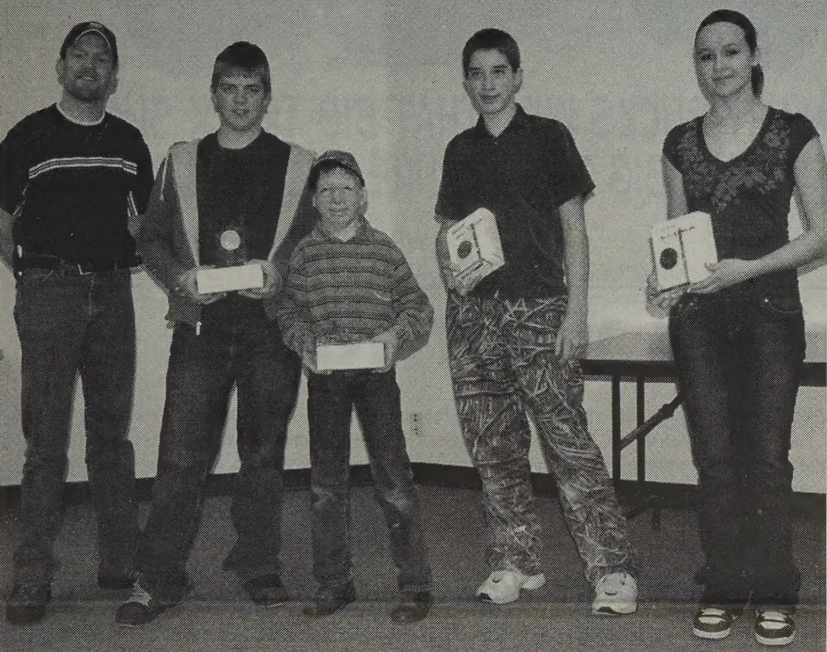

Reed said she and her fellow judges were "very impressed" with the speeches, while the presentations were "awesome. I love learning things."

Leckie told the Junior speakers they had done a very good job, and encouraged them to maintain eye contact with their audience. "Trust yourselves to speak without reading your cards."

Ellen Seward and Joanne Bepalko were timers and tellers and Lucille Smith was in charge of the impromptu preparations.

Alanna Ockerman was the afternoon's mistress of ceremonies.

The 4-H District Speak-off is in St. Lina on Mar. 2.

Chamber

The chamber plans to send Bob Bepalko to the Rural Tourism conference in Camrose, and also hope he will be able to attend a workshop in Vermilion hosted by ATCO. Myron Goyan was delegated to suggest to ATCO that Elk Point would be a good location for a future workshop.

Plans for the Wednesday, Feb. 27 all-candidates forum were finalized. All three candidates have confirmed their attendance at the event, scheduled for 7 p.m. at the Seniors Recreation Centre.

4-H Awards of Excellence were presented by Jason Boorse (left) to Marvin Ockerman, who received a gold award, Tyler Ockerman and Darren Tymofichuk, receiving silver awards, and Britney Heathcote, who received a bronze award for their outstanding 4-H and community involvement over the past years.

EDITORIAL

No sure thing

It's not over until it's over.

The Boyle Blazers and Shannon Kleibrink's Team Alberta both thought they were on the road to victory this weekend, but it didn't turn out that way.

In Regina at the Tournament of Hearts, all it took was one miscalculated shot to wipe out a spectacular week's record of wins and to give Manitoba's Jennifer Jones and her rink the title of Team Canada.

In Boyle on Friday night, the Elk Point Peewee Avalanche may have given the Blazers almost as big a surprise as Jones gave Kleibrink. Who would have expected a team that started the season with a long run of losses to come on that strong and beat them in their own barn? Saturday's game was the clincher, and Elk Point finally has a zone-winning hockey team again, after a long drought.

For both Team Canada and the newly-crowned Zone 2 champions, it's just the beginning of the next stage of competition. Jones and her gang are off to Vernon, BC for the World Women's Curling Championships on March 22, and in 2009, they'll go to the trials for the 2010 Olympics.

The Peewee A's don't have that much at stake, but this week they're gunning for the league championship and in a short two-and-a-half weeks, they take on the best teams in the province. The sweet thing is that they're going in as zone-winning equals, not just because they've got a good spot to hold a provincial tournament. Winning the league would just give them extra confidence.

Good luck, guys! Keep up the good work!

Way Back When...

Nomination, new trophy, nationals

HERE'S THE NEWS THAT MADE THE HEADLINES OF THE LAKELAND REVIEW AND ELK POINT REVIEW FOR THE WEEK OF FEB. 26 IN...

1988

Elk Point area resident John Dahmer announced that he would be seeking the Progressive Conservative nomination for the federal electoral district of Beaver River. Rinks skipped by Jim Krauss of St. Paul, Don Anderson of Lindbergh and Steve Penz of Elk Point won the trophies at the Elk Point Mixed Bonspiel.

1993

The County of St. Paul school board voted unanimously to leave the North Central East Alberta School Authorities Association bargaining unit and invited the Glen Avon, St. Paul Regional and St. Paul 2228 boards to join them and make up their own bargaining unit for upcoming teachers' salary negotiations. Wes Meger of Grand Centre, Allan Berg and Steve Penz of Elk Point skipped the trophy winners at the Elk Point Mixed Bonspiel.

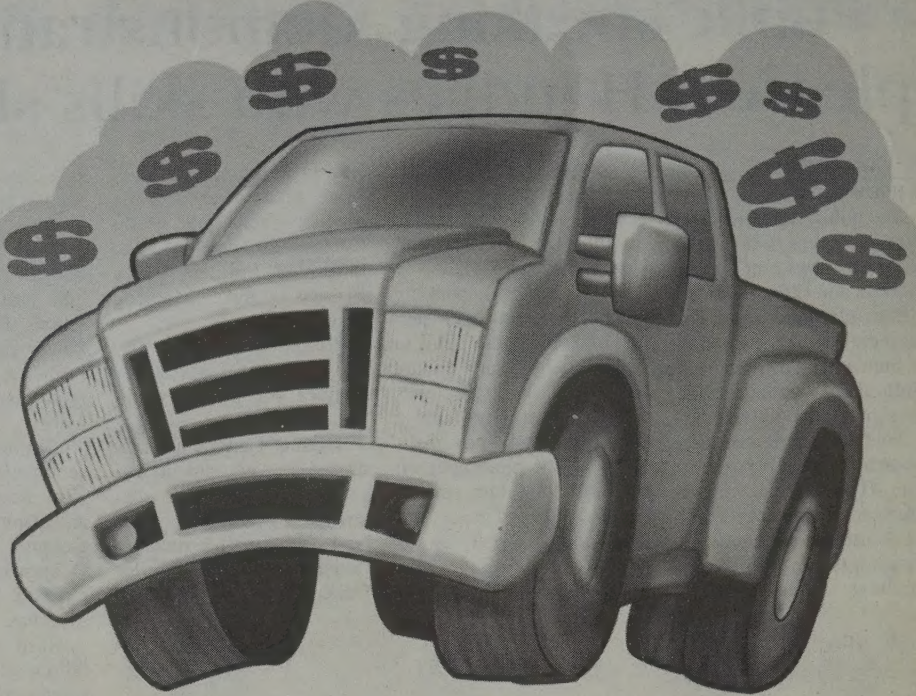

1998

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce was looking for members, first, before seeking a new president to replace Vicki Brooker, who had spent the maximum term in office. With the original Westmin challenge trophy filled to capacity in just eight years, Norcen Energy's Kevin Casper presented the Zone 7 seniors with a new trophy for their Alberta Senior Citizens' Sports and Recreation Association activities.

2003

The Chamber of Commerce Award of Excellence was presented to longtime businessman Doug McPherson, who chamber president Glenn Harms said "has plowed a lot of money into this town," while other awards at the annual meeting went to the Elk Point Oilmen's Association and the Canada Day pancake breakfast organizers. Elk Point figure skater Daylan Hoffman was off to competition in the Canada Winter Games in New Brunswick.

HOW MANY BUCKS WILL THAT BIG TRUCK SUCK,
'CAUSE THAT BIG TRUCK SURE SUCKS BUCKS?

GUEST COLUMN

Notify your face

There is a story told about a bus driver in Denver who had a bus filled with passengers. It's a regular work day. He turns around and looks out at the people. He doesn't like what he sees so he stops the bus and gets off. Several minutes later he comes back with a box filled with muffins and doughnuts. He passes one to each person and gives him a smile. He gets in the paper. He says, "I didn't do it to get in the paper. I did it to love those people. They all looked so miserable."

When I heard this story, I thought to myself, "I bet the people complained when the bus driver got off of the bus because any delay in travel would have, of course, caused them to be late in arriving at their destination." Anyway, why id the bus driver do what he did. Check it out. On most workday mornings, do people look like they are happily on their way to doing something satisfying and fulfilling? NOOO! A sour look is the mask we too often wear while we work. Looking stressed and concerned creates negative emotional energy that is transmitted to each person we come in contact with. Before long, the whole work environment can be contaminated with tension and anxiety and it stifles real productivity. A smile actually changes our physiology. When someone smiles at us we relax, start to breathe easier and muscle tension disappears. The opposite occurs when someone grimaces at us.

This story can also be likened to what is happening with our Alberta election campaign by all of the parties. The politicians put on a "serious face" and questions being asked or statements being made all seem to be based on serious, focused concerns and issues. Different adjectives, verbs or adverbs seem to be freely spoken.

"We need change" seems to be a common phrase. So are these people saying these words with a sour look or a smile on their face? The answer to that question is obvious. Anyway, the next point that we could liken to the bus driver story is how the bus driver looked at the people, and because he cared, he did something that would make a difference with the people. He fed them and as he gave them food, he smiled.

Ellen Goodman is quoted as saying: "I have never been especially impressed by the heroics of the people convinced that they are about to change the world. I am more awed by the heroism of those who are willing to struggle to make one small difference after another."

When you think about it, when politicians really are struggling to make a difference, they are heroes.

Anyway, do you remember the movie of "Jerry McGuire"? There is a scene in the movie when Tom Cruise and Cuba Gooding Junior leave the stadium after a game and Cruise looks at Gooding and says, "Can we talk?"

Gooding says, "Sure."

And Cruise says, "No, I mean can we talk as friends?" Gooding nods. Cruise says, "You've gotta get your heart in the game! You're out there and all you're thinking about is who's passing to who, who's sponsoring who, how much so-and-so is getting paid. You're a paycheque player. You got to remember why you got into this game in the first place."

"Show me the money" only goes so far. If we are guided by a larger purpose - to make a difference and to add value, things will change. Therefore whether it is us or the politicians we are talking about, we need to get our heart into it and it will show on our face. If your face is notified, others will get the message.

Frog Lake track stars shine in Kamloops

By VICKI BROOKER
Staff Writer

Eleven track and field stars from Chief Napewaw Comprehensive School in Frog Lake brought home medals from the Kamloops Indoor Championships, held as part of the grand opening of that city's new Centennial Pavilion.

Duane Manderscheid, the school's vice-principal, phys. ed. instructor and track coach, said the meet involved "athletes from age six to 78" from as far away as Saskatoon and Regina as well as from track clubs across Alberta and BC.

"We're very proud of our athletes. We went with a purpose and came back with a lot of gold, a lot of silver and a lot of bronze medals."

Three students brought home three medals apiece. Tessa Quinney received gold in high jump, shot put and long jump, Christopher Moyah won gold in high jump and long jump and silver in 600 metres, David Monias won gold in high jump and 600 metres and silver in long jump.

Two medals each went to Chantel Willier, receiving gold in shot put and bronze in long jump, and Jordan Cardinal, with gold in 600 metres and silver in shot put, plus a fourth place finish in long jump.

Gold medals went to Kelly John in high jump and to Dante Quinney and Ricky Pahtayken-Marty in shot put. Aysha John and Chase John both won silver in shot put, while Damaise Singer won bronze in shot put.

"We were invited back," Manderscheid said, "and I assured them we will go back with more to the Spring Throws on April 26 to 28 and to the Centennial Meet May 9 to 11."

At the same time the 11 were competing in Kamloops, five junior and senior high athletes were in Pocatello, Idaho at the Simplot Games, which involved 6800 athletes, including those from five clubs in Alberta.

Keely O'Dell, Windy Quinney, Jordan Stanley, Victor Jackson and Amber Stanley took part in shot put and weight throw and "represented Frog Lake very well," according to Sherri O'Dell, who coached the group along with John O'Dell.

Almost 90 of the school's 286 students are involved in the indoor track and field program, and Manderscheid says "there could be over 100 at the Hershey's (Track and Field Games) on June 12 in Spruce Grove." Hershey's finalists from Alberta, BC, the Yukon and Northwest Territories will compete in Edmonton on June 21, with the winners from there going on to the North American finals in Hershey, Pennsylvania.

Gas wells targeted

By CST. JASON BARBER
Elk Point RCMP Detachment

Between the hours of 5 p.m. on Sunday, Feb 17 and 7:30 the next morning, a gas compressor was purposely shut down at a gas well east of Elk Point, located at 11-33-56-6 W4. This site is located on RR 64 south of Highway 646.

Suspect (s) likely drove to the well site and walked up and turned off one of the compressor valves, causing the compressor to shut down.

A similar incident occurred at the same gas well site between 5 p.m. on the evening of Tuesday, Jan. 22 and 7 a.m. the next morning when three compressor valves had been shut down.

Approximate times for each incident was between 9 p.m. and 11 p.m.

Anyone with information is asked to call Crime Stoppers at 1-800-222-TIPS (8477) or the Elk Point RCMP Detachment at (780) 724-2964.

Peewee Avs named Zone 2 champs

When you earned the right to be there, no one will ever be able to take that away from you. We all know the Peewee Avalanche are this year's host team of the Peewee D provincials in three weeks from now on March 14 to 16 and should have been just happy playing in the big show, but no, they had something to prove to all those who may have doubted that they are good enough to be there, and believe me, after watching them play on Saturday night, they do belong.

The Zone 2 round robins have been going on since the middle of January to determine which team would represent our zone along with the host site Elk Point. Boyle was the last team standing. Rumor was, Boyle was big and intimidating.

The rumors were true, they were big and very intimidating, especially at first sight, when the boys traveled there Friday night and found themselves in trouble early, down 2-0 after the first period. But suddenly in the second period the momentum changed. Some big body checks by Michael "Bulldozer" Abraham were followed by two goals from the towering winger, one assisted by Jarred "Snipes" MacGilvery and the other by "Bruise Brother" Matthew Jenner and after forty minutes the game was all tied up at two. Things really opened up in the third, three goals by the Avalanche team captain Trevor "the Kid" Ballas, the first assisted by the big blue liner Brett "the Moose" Ockerman. "Dan the Man" Garrett added two goals in the third, both of them assisted by Logan "Paycheck" Becker, and the Avalanche would win this one 7 to 5, coming home up two goals in the two-game total-point series.

The Avalanche were not wasting any energy Saturday night, coming out strong right off the opening face off, Logan "Paycheck" Becker roofing one on his first shift. A excellent game for the talented "Paycheck" who would go on to score two more, giving him a hat trick, all of them assisted by "Dan the Man" Garrett, who buried one himself. Team captain Trevor "the Kid" Ballas and Michael "Bulldozer" Abraham both adding singles, and Andrew "Bruise Brother" Jenner teeing one up then faking the big slap shot, he deked the goalie right out of his shorts, assisted by "Bruise Brother # 2" Matthew Jenner the rugged D-man who gets less glory. The Avalanche would go on to win this one 7 to 4. They always say to win the big games your goalie has to bring his best game, and this was true on Saturday night, Boyle outshot the Avalanche by 2 to 1, but Brayden "Mr. Scrooge" Vinge shut the door in their faces and sent the Blazers home, but never fear, they will return in a few weeks from now, ready to rumble, that is for certain.

Tonight the Avalanche hosts Kitscoty in the league final, home-and-home series. Come on out for a little taste of what's in store a few weeks from now.

Saturday morning at home, the Micro Novice Tornados, won a barn-burner 8 to 5 against Vermilion. Ross Hawryluk and Dustin Pankiw with hat tricks, Tammy Roberts and Hayden Ludlage also finding the twine. Three assists for Keaton Hawryluk, Liam Ludlage, Jace Stafford and Dylan Ference all getting helpers. Next Saturday the Tornados will be hosting Dewberry at 10 a.m.

Great teamwork over in Marwayne from the Novice Hurricanes, every player contributed in some way. "Ozzie" Austin Stafford scoring, Noah Barber assisting and goalie Colton Cardinal doing an awesome job between the pipes. This coming weekend the Hurricanes are in a tournament in Dewberry.

They worked their hearts out, shift after shift, but always seemed to hit the post and come up just a goal or two short in the three games that they played on Saturday, but the effort was there and best of all the attitude as been great all year. The Atom Avalanche played in their league final tournament in Mallaig on Saturday. Colin "Naz Jr."

Nazarchuk and Han Lo Pittlejon scoring in the first game against the host. Brodin Ference with two and Dylan Odgaard also scoring in the second game against Pierceland, Vikram Sidhu and Han Lo Pittlejon assisting. Brandon Garrett scoring in the third game against Lac La Biche. Goalie Matthew Mahoney was superb in all three games behind the mask.

Sunday afternoon it was the Bantam Girls Storm's turn to shine, when they hosted Lac La Biche in their first playoff series, and shine they did, winning by a huge 6 to 2 score. "Raven Beauty" Quinney with a hat trick, Mariah Poitras and Katie Maennchen also scoring. Setting them up, right winger Alyssa Harms with a total of five assists, the hard working two-way defense woman Chelsea Botting with four assists, Lindsey "Goldilocks" MacDonald and Tori "T-Rex" Becker with helpers as well.

"Ever since I was young it's been my dream, that I might someday drive the Zamboni machine." Hey, guess what? The new Zamboni is scheduled to arrive today, just in time to give it a test run tonight in the Avalanche game against Elk Point Peewee Avalanche became Elk Point's first Zone champions in a number of years when they defeated Boyle Blazers 14 to 9 in the two game, total point series this weekend. Boyle will be back to take part in the Peewee D Provincials on March 14-16, along with teams from Grimshaw, Calahoo, Caroline and Crossfield, and the still-to-be-determined winners of Zones 5 and 7.

Political hopefuls share vision for future

Alberta Liberal party candidate Alex Broadbent

What are your three main priorities if elected?

For me personally, it's agriculture. Because the way the agriculture and farming is right now, it's a mess. And we have to find a way to get it back to where it's viable again. Our youth and our seniors have to be looked after. We have to have seniors facilities that are necessary and lodges and Extenderes and hospitals for the aging population. For youths, we need better school systems and reasonable tuition fees, so they can have the ability to attend university and post-secondary education without being destitute. Some of these kids out there have huge student loans to pay off.

How do you plan to address the challenges facing Alberta's agricultural industry?

It has to be done with input from the farming community itself. There are no simple answers to it, really.

How do you think Alberta should be planning to manage its growth? What needs to be considered?

To manage growth, I think we have to encourage growth. Growth comes regardless of what government does. We have to be prepared to deal with it. We have to have the infrastructure in place for the growth that's going to happen. That's what we're lacking right now - everything from roads to schools to hospitals.

What makes this area special to you?

I live here. I live in this area, my kids all live in this area. And we have to maintain a system that encourages our children and youth to stay in this area.

What is your hope for Alberta 15 years down the road? Where do you see this province going?

I hope when we're elected, we can have things in place for our youth. That the opportunities are available and are there for them to improve their lifestyles, their training and education.

Progressive Conservative candidate Ray Danyluk

What are your three main priorities if elected?

First of all, safe and caring communities. It's important. The second one is, the impact on me, on you, on family. What impact do we have, whether it be on housing or education or health care. The third one is agriculture. It's major. We need to be able to have agriculture that's sustainable.

How do you plan to address the challenges facing Alberta's agricultural industry?

First of all, we need to have long-term sustainability. Our reference margins have really dropped, so CAIS does not work in this part of the province because we've had drought and BSE. We need to separate the livestock aspect and the grain aspect. The third, and most important in livestock, is the cost of production. Right now, we're trying to support income. Supporting income, I don't believe, is the solution. We have an insurance program, it's basically cost of production support. It's an insurance for the cost of production, which is $1.20 to a $1.50 a pound. Farmers are getting 75 cents to 95 cents a pound. They can't survive that way. We need to have longevity and productivity for agriculture, no different from what we did for municipalities.

How do you think Alberta should be planning to manage its growth? What needs to be considered?

When you have 100,000 people coming in to the province every year, you need to know how we're going to create more doors, more homes, more units. Also, investors need to have security in the government. If you bring forward rent controls, they won't want to build here. The second point is planning for infrastructure. That means schools, that means roads, that means hospitals. The third one is planning services, and making sure we have the ability to provide services. We have to make sure we provide the training for caretakers or for support services. The other thing that I think is important, is that our premier very much recognized our municipalities needed support to have predictability and sustainability for their future by providing $11.3 billion for 10 years. This is all so that they have the ability to plan.

What makes this area special to you?

This is the most diversified constituency in the province. It also has the most to offer - its people, from all types of ethnic backgrounds, and contributions, its opportunities, and because of its potential. We have so much potential to give opportunity to individuals who come here and who live here.

What is your hope for Alberta 15 years down the road? Where do you see this province going?

If we look at where I'd like to be in 15 years, that we have infrastructure in place that's sustainable and accessible, meaning roads and stuff like that. We need to have sustainable agriculture. We need to work on that. It's something that can't be put on the back burner. It's something that we need to deal with immediately.

Alberta's NDP candidate Della Drury

What are your three main priorities if elected?

My main concerns are seniors, health care and housing. I read the Auditor General's report on the appalling conditions that seniors are facing when they go into care. I respect wholeheartedly the people who work in those places. I'm not going to take away from what they do - we need more support for them, so they can do their jobs properly. For me, health care is very important, because it's what got me interested in politics to begin with, with Bill 11. It's vitally important for people to have health care in this province. And housing, we have a pretty big crisis in housing. If we don't have a place to live, how are we going to be able to live, to learn, to be healthy, to be happy?

Political hopefuls share vision

I realize I am up against the housing minister in this riding, and I think it's perhaps time he steps up and helps fix the problem. And I know that in this area, there are so many more (priorities), like agriculture, education and infrastructure.

How do you plan to address the challenges facing Alberta's agricultural industry?

If I am elected, I will be part of the NDP caucus. I will work hard in the caucus. There may be fewer of us, so my voice will make more of an impact. And I will definitely work towards making agriculture affordable for farmers. We want to make it so that there's less red tape for smaller farms, that aren't those mega agribusinesses. We want to remove the red tape so that they can get help and funding when they need it, disaster relief when they need it. I would consult with farmers around the province. As I am not a farmer, I don't have first-hand information. So I would consult with farmers so that I could gain a sense of their priorities and work with them and present their views in the NDP caucus.

How do you think Alberta should be planning to manage its growth? What needs to be considered?

In this province, we are tied to oil and gas. So we are tied to the boom and bust that brings. That doesn't leave any real security for people. We have incredible inflation that leaves it difficult for people to afford to live when wages don't match that. The NDP would develop a labour retention strategy so our businesses could run at full capacity; better manage the pace of development in the oil patch to mitigate effects of the uncontrolled growth; support increased oil royalties, using some of the funds created to promote a green energy industry - preparing Alberta for the day when oil and gas reserves are depleted; and build and maintain crucial infrastructure necessary for our economic growth and social services.

What makes this area special to you?

I love that there's so many different types of people that live here and that there's so much diversity in the area. There's farmers, there's teachers, there are forests in this area that people manage. There's beautiful lakes. For me, it's the epitome of a rural Alberta. I've always been a rural girl. It speaks to me. This is rural Alberta, this is how I like my province.

What is your hope for Alberta 15 years down the road? Where do you see this province going?

I have so many dreams for this province. I have so much hope. I can see this province continuing to be incredibly prosperous but everyone being able to afford to live without worry.

THANK YOU CRITES, Sophia

The family of the late Sophia Crites wish to thank everyone for their support through cards, phone calls, flowers, food and charitable donations. Although Mom's passing was very unexpected, she left us peacefully.

A special thank you to Caroline Yewchin for performing the service, you portrayed mom as she was. We also extend this thanks to the rest of the staff for their support and professional guidance.

We will always miss Mom, but as long as we remember to 'live one day at a time' we will be able to overcome life's challenges.

Librarian

From graphic novels, romance and fantasy to some great new mysteries, we have a super new selection of young adult material to check out. Be sure to ask at the circulation desk to find out where it's located.

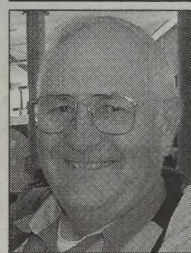

Just to mention a few of the new arrivals... "Naruto" is an amazing Ninja graphic novel. You won't want to miss "Manga Shakespeare," another graphic novel, also "Vampire Academy" by Richelle Mead, a spine-chilling read, and "Hook-up or Breakup?" by Kendall Adams. Who will be Noelle's dream prom date?

Reminder: there are now no membership fees for town of Elk Point and County of St. Paul residents. If you have never had a membership with us, please bring a confirmation of your address, such as your driver's license, water bill, etc.

Important dates coming up are: the next Seniors' Tea on Tuesday, March 11 and Knit with Us @ the Library on Tuesday, March 18. Bring your knitting project and join us. Don't forget the library's annual meeting on Wednesday, March 19, which the public is welcome to attend.

OBITUARY

CHRAPKO, Victor 1942-2008

Words cannot describe the agony with which we announce that our husband, father and mentor was killed on February 20, 2008, when a driver collided into the fuel tanks of Victor Chrapko's semi-trailer truck.

Victor will forever be adored and greatly missed by his wife Elizabeth, son and daughter-in-law Evan and Irene; daughter Tonia; son and daughter-in-law Shane and Susanne; daughter Xina; and grandchildren Elissa, Chad and Annika. He is survived by his sister Clara (Joe) and brothers Metro (Cecile), Ron (Elaine) and Ivan (Sandy) as well as nieces and nephews. Victor was pre-deceased by his parents, John Simion Chrapko and Eva Chrapko.

Victor was an ethical farmer, visionary farm activist and world-class Change Agent. He was passionately committed to improving the world every single day, no matter what the beneficiary(ies) race, creed or color. Victor was a model citizen during his lifetime of honest, hard work. His precious farm, in the family starting with Victor's father, just celebrated its 80th year of success through innovation and continual improvement.

Even if you only met the man once, you know that Victor was unapologetically straight-shooting. Victor Chrapko was never intimidated by anyone (powerful or otherwise)—a rare man, he consistently spoke out and took meaningful action against injustices (big and small). All of this came to Victor naturally by virtue of his uncompromising common sense and deeply-held morals.

Victor Chrapko was a selfless community leader on the local, provincial and international stages. A vast array of civic organizations and charities in unrelated spheres all benefited from Victor's contributions, the following being only a partial list: President of the Alberta Organic Producers' Association; Reeve of the County of Two Hills; Board of Directors member of The Alberta Pork Producers' Development Corporation; St. Paul Elks Lodge #45; Trustee on the Board of The Glenrose Rehabilitation Hospital Foundation; Board of Directors member of Fletchers' Corp.- Fundraiser for S.T.A.R.S. Air Ambulance

On a personal, non-organization basis, Victor "fought the good fight" on numerous issues when others lacked the courage, strength or foresight. His successful battles included: helping build the region's first telephone service and the local rural electrification project, fighting off the building of a hazardous industrial waste facility, helping people in developing countries and, most recently, battling the advent of genetically engineered food.

Victor was nominated to the Alberta Agriculture Hall of Fame in 2007. Also in 2007, his winery—the first and only organic fruit winery in Alberta, and still one of the very few in Canada—won the AgChoices 2007 Best Practices Renewal Award, a joint federal & provincial initiative in Canada. See www.EnSanteWinery.com. Victor traveled all over the world, always with Elizabeth, to promote sustainable agriculture practices. In 1993, the whole family won the Alberta Farm Family Award.

Victor Chrapko inspired many people; he deeply loved all of his family as much as he cherished life itself; and as a consequence, he lived more vibrantly than most. Very few people escaped his good-natured teasing, his endless joking and his love of politics. Most importantly, Victor Chrapko left the world a far better place because of his time among us.

Victor Chrapko's legacy will live on while those left behind contemplate the sudden void created by his absence. Victor set a very high bar for everyone, especially himself. And he definitely equipped all those who sought his advice about ways of getting along with others and getting ahead in the world on an honest and ethical basis. We pledge to honor him by continuing to conduct our lives in the same principled manner. Thank you Dad.

A Celebration of Life and Memorial Service will be held at the Two Hills Centennial Hall, Two Hills, Alberta on Saturday, March 1, 2008 at 2:00 p.m. It will include a meal featuring Victor & Elizabeth's organic fruit wine. Everyone is most welcome to stay and enjoy the meal, after which Victor will go home to spend one last night at his farm. The next day at 12:30, Sunday March 2, we will bury our husband, Tato, Dido, brother and friend at the Two Hills Community Cemetery in a hand-dug grave. He will be in a coffin hand-made by the Hutterites at Plain Lake colony using lumber made from spruce trees that lined the farmyard driveway leading to the Chrapko farm house.

In lieu of flowers, donations to the "Organic Agriculture Protection Fund" will be accepted to support the fight against genetically engineered foods. This request is made in acknowledgment of Victor's countless volunteer hours and tireless work as the President of the Alberta Organic Producers' Association. Please make cheques payable to the "Organic Agriculture Protection Fund" and mail to: Organic Agriculture Protection Fund c/o Yewchin's Funeral Chapel Ltd., Box 425, St. Paul, AB, Canada T0A 3A0. Second palliative room to be established in 2008

By GRACE KINJERSKI
Elk Point Palliative Care Volunteer Group

With the generosity of each and every one who donated to the Tree of Hope this past Christmas, we will finally see our goal of creating a second Palliative Room with an attached family room. The room will offer extra patient comfort, and family and friends can be close by. This year a record total of $1,955 was raised.

Lights were placed in the tree in memory of: (donors in brackets) Roy Radies, Andrew Radies and Kenny Radies (Betty Radies), Annie and Mike Sheplaw (Phil and Vickie Sheplaw), James Shepherd (Ernest Yake), Ross Maas, Dennis Maas, Barry Maas (Peggy Maas), Mike Shymkiw, Nick Jankovic, John Oryschuk (Katherine Shymkiw), Eugene Bayduza, Vladimir Bayduza, Bob Bartholomew (Gabrielle Bayduza), John Ockerman (Melinda Heathcote), Harry and Jean Kozicky (Calvin and Darlene Kozicky), Dennis Berg, Arvid Berg, Helen Wallace, May Polege, Glenda Burritt (Ann and Howard Berg), Walter Yaremkevich, Lilly Sass (Lois Yaremkevich), Jean Slywka, Polly Gozjolko, Ruby McCarthy (Betty Radies), Connie Smereka (Denise Bjorkman), Peggy Anderson (Brian Anderson), Tom McLennan, Wasy Elashuk (Steffie McLennan), Bruce Hannah, Bruce Smith, Frank Haggard (Hazel Hannah), Bruce Hannah, Victor Smith, Vi Smith (Allen and Lucille Smith), Carl Nelson, Hazel Hoard, Alfred and Vera Fakeley (Deanna and Gordon Fakeley), Carl Nelson (Olive Nelson), Ross Maas, Dennis Maas, Barry Maas, Ted Gulayec (Donna and Gary Gulayec),

Anton Zarowny (Phyllis Zarowny), Pete Stafford (Brad and Tina Campbell and family), Mary Piotrowski, Grandma Boothman (Mary Bochon), Anna Cameron, Lily Cochrane, Sam Cochrane (Betty Radies), Mary Piotrowski (Pat Swedgan), Ralph Kryvenchuk, Mike Stepaniuk, Steve Stepaniuk, Pete Stafford, Raymond Ewasiuk (Ray and Lorraine Danyluk), Pete Stafford (Carrie and Brent Becker), Barrie McFadyen, Helen Saranchuk-Luchkanych (Myrna and Bill Fox), Paul Stepa, Anne Demchuk (Lena Stepa), Ted Gulayec, Tillie Shymkiw (Anne Gulayec), Dawn Tremblay, Donald Hutton, Rose Tremblay, Louis Aime Tremblay (Remi and Coral Tremblay), Jim Shepherd, Tom Shepherd (Doris and Laverne Wilson), Hubert and Marie Miller (Linda Miller), Grampa Pete Stafford (Tori and Logan Becker), Our parents and son (Margaret and Lawrence Modin), Steve Riome (Peggy Riome), Steve Riome (Mom and Dad Hyatt), Lloyd Lampert, Albert Lampert, Grace and John Harasym, Ralph Kryvenchuk (Donna Kondro), Barrie McFadyen (Violet McFadyen), Pete Stafford, Annie Culford (Karen Stafford), John Zarowny, Metro Eliuk, Vera Eliuk, Elaine Zayonce, Bill Eliuk, Marshall Bowen (Amelia and Jim Bowen), Helen Hillebrand, Raymond Hillebrand, Walter Hillebrand (Ken and Nellie Hillebrand), Ron Onusko, Jean Blair (Carolyn Onusko), John Ruzycski, Pete Ruzycski (Joyce Oryschuk), John Oryschuk, Ann and Pete Ruzycski (Tracy and Allan Loughran and family), Paul Moneta (Leona Moneta), John Oryschuk (Blain and Trish Oryschuk and family), Elva Libich (Carol and Ray Hellquist),
